

First Public Training Program Held in Jamaica: A Success

5 March 2007 (Montreal) – Goulet Telecom International held its first public Training Program in the Caribbean in Jamaica from 5 to 9 February 2007. The ‘Interconnection Fundamentals Principles’ Training Program was held in Kingston and was attended by 26 participants from several Caribbean countries: Barbados, Curacao, Grand Cayman, Jamaica, St. Lucia, Suriname and Trinidad & Tobago.

The Training Program was a success with a 4.6 out of 5 satisfaction rate. “This is by far the best Training Program on interconnection that I have been to” said one participant. “Overall, it was an excellent training. Much of the information gathered will be useful in our work and will benefit our organizations” added another participant.

The objective of this Training Program is to provide participants with the basic concepts and fundamental principles of the interconnection of telecommunications networks covering commercial, administrative, operational and legal/regulatory aspects.

Next public Training Programs on Interconnection will take place as follows:

- ‘Interconnection Agreements Negotiation & Management’ Training Program
 - 7–18 May 2007 – Cape Town, South Africa
 - 5–16 November 2007 – Paris, France
- ‘International Settlements & Traffic Management’
 - 13–17 August 2007 – London, United Kingdom
- ‘IP Interconnection & Commercial Arrangements’ Training Program
 - 10–14 September 2007 – Montreal, Canada
