MONTREAL, November 2010 – Montreal-based telecommunication company Neotelis is pleased to announce that Neotelis has been recognized by the Inter-American Telecommunication Commission (CITEL) as a Regional Training Center.

Neotelis' application was approved during the XXIII meeting of the Permanent Executive Committee of CITEL on August 9th, 2010, but the news was just recently confirmed.

Michel Bruyère, CEO of Neotelis is thrilled about the news. "We are extremely pleased and honoured to be recognized as a CITEL Regional Training Center. We look forward to a long and fruitful collaboration with CITEL to develop human capacity in ICT in the Americas."

Industry Canada supported the application process and says, "Neotelis' application to become a Regional Training Centre for CITEL was approved by consensus at the August 2010 meeting of the Permanent Executive Committee of CITEL (COM/CITEL). Industry Canada represents Canadian interests at CITEL, and as one of the thirteen members of COM/CITEL participated in the meeting where Neotelis' application was approved."

Neotelis provides training and consulting services in telecommunications to clients in more than 100 countries globally. This recognition as a CITEL Regional Training Center will open up new market opportunities for Neotelis in the Americas.

Executive Secretary of CITEL, Mr. Clovis Baptista says, "Our mission is to facilitate and promote the integral and sustainable development of telecommunications in the Americas. We focus on collaborating with innovative companies, and, as such, we are honoured to include Neotelis in our list of Regional Training Centers. Their work and dedication towards improving the human resources field in international companies is the reason we chose them to be a part of CITELE.”

CITELE has as one of its specific objectives, to promote training, technical cooperation, and technology transfer in telecommunications/information and communication technologies as a contribution to the development of the Americas. In fulfillment of this mission, CITELE offers specialized training courses in telecommunications/ICT for countries in the region.

CITELE’s Regional Training Centers aim to build up and reinforce human resources in the telecommunication field through ongoing training programs in telecommunication policies, regulation, management and technology.
