

Neotelis and i<sup>3</sup> Forum announce Training Programs on International IP Interconnection at ITW 2010

02 June 2010 (Montreal) – Neotelis announced a new suite of Training Programs on international IP interconnection based on the work of the i<sup>3</sup> Forum at the International Telecommunications Week in Washington, DC, held from 24 to 26 May 2010 (ITW 2010).

The programs were announced at the i<sup>3</sup> Forum Panel and Press Conference entitled 'Transitioning the Carrier Industry to IP: Real Life Experience from the Members of the i<sup>3</sup> Forum' held at ITW 2010.

'We are very pleased to be working with the i<sup>3</sup> Forum on these Training Programs. We believe that these programs will be of great benefit to our global customer base many of whom are facing the transition to IP-based interconnection in the near future.' said Michel Bruyère, CEO of Neotelis.

Philippe Millet, Chairman of the i<sup>3</sup> Forum stated, 'We see the Neotelis Training Programs as a way to continue to inform and educate international carriers about how to transition to international IP interconnection. Neotelis has significant experience in training telecommunications carriers and is ideally positioned to collaborate with the i<sup>3</sup> Forum to provide these programs.'
